Refugee Resettlement Experiences, August 2017

The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops/Migration and Refugee Services received $225,000 in competitive funding through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Grant 90RB0077. BRYCS is financed 100% through Federal funds. The materials presented are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families.

Objectives

- Gain a general awareness of the refugee experience
- Learn about the differences between refugee camps and urban settings
- See the anticipation and perceptions that refugees hold towards resettlement in the United States, and how those perceptions change.
- Foster empathy when serving refugees and their families

Introduction – Suhad Khudhair

Family & Background
Current Life in Salt Lake City, UT

Suhad’s family is originally from Baghdad, Iraq. She worked for USAID in Baghdad and fled Iraq in 2006 due to ongoing violence in the city. She moved to Egypt with her two children and remained there for 3 years before she resettled to Salt Lake City, Utah. She was resettled by the IRC and worked hard to ensure her children could resume their education and that she could find a job and support the family. Now she is a Housing Coordinator with Catholic Community Services of Utah and her children are doing great in school!
